Bauer Interview Technique Engagement

*This will only make sense if you first watch the training conducted by Joel Bauer during Ken Krell's LIVE Broadcast.

Example of Interview Questions & Answers:

Q: I heard you have the ability to take someone who has been emotionally or physically shut down and empower them through their posture to feel more confident, energized, and in command.

A: Yes, and in just 3 simple moves.

Q: What Qualifies You as an Expert in Your Field?

A: As a classically trained ballet dancer with more than 18 years of experience, I know first-hand what it takes to have a powerful, yet graceful presence. I have learned specific techniques from the finest instructors that have helped me to command any room I walk into and present myself with confidence, energy, and openness. Once I found the right instructor, it changed everything - from how I moved, to the way I carried myself, to how other people perceived me both in the dance world and everyday life. What I learned can be transferred to anyone.

Q: Please Teach One Principle Our Audience Can Relate to and Immediately Apply.

A: I would be happy to! (Teach my Finding Your Center Exercise) You will want to start with two feet placed hip width apart on the ground. Now, I want you to bounce lightly on the balls of your feet, taking notice to where your weight is. If your weight is too far back, this exercise will be impossible to do. In order to bounce on the balls of your feet, your weight has to be up and forward. Next, you will want to bend at the knees to help solidify your center. Slowly bend your knees falling and rising a few times. This is a simple exercise to help you find your center.

Q: A Few Recent Success Stories Would Be Great.

A: Corporate Executive, Debbie went from feeling shut down to walking in her power with a new-found confidence within a matter of minutes. Chad came to me with extreme tension in his upper body. Within 20 minutes, I was able to leave him feeling lighter, energized and emotionally recharged. Three weeks later, he informed me his posture was fixed.

I prefer the black Samson Go MIC as a road warrior, as I do not want my equipment on-camera to shine and detract from my communication EYE2Camera:

With a proper adapter you can use this mic with your cell phone -- though the results are less than outstanding...
